

GETTING IT DONE:

A Workshop Series on Transit-Oriented Districts and Walkable Communities

Minneapolis

Dallas, Texas

Rahway, New Jersey

Portland, Oregon

Achieving transit-oriented districts and walkable communities isn't easy. The challenges of regulatory requirements, community pressures over higher density development, multi-jurisdictional collaboration, and long term timelines are only a few of the obstacles to success.

Join us to roll up your sleeves and find solutions!

- Share information on national models of success
- Hear from a panel of local responders to compare strategies between transit corridors
- Engage practitioners from a wide array of fields to solve technical problems, and to strengthen efforts to implement transit-oriented districts and walkable communities.

These events are free, but registration is REQUIRED, as space is limited. Please register by contacting Gretchen Nicholls, LISC, at gnicholls@lisc.org or by phone at 651-265-2280.

For more information, visit:
www.tclisc.org

Who should attend?

Those working to support or implement TOD from the following fields:

Engineers • Planning+Design Professionals •
Community Development • Parks and Watershed
Districts • Developers • Policy Makers • Citizen and Advocacy Groups • Financial Institutions • Transportation Agencies • University and Higher Ed Representatives • State Officials/Governors
Office • Metropolitan Council • County and City Representatives

The workshops will provide a high-level technical discussion on implementation tools and policies to accomplish transit-oriented districts and walkable communities.

Workshop I: Infrastructure and Public Realm

Tuesday March 16, 2010

9 am – 12 pm

Dorsey & Whitney

50 South 6th Street, Minneapolis

Featuring Gary Toth, Project for Public Spaces

Mr. Toth is Senior Director, Transportation Initiatives with the Project for Public Spaces. He has substantial expertise in transportation planning, particularly the integration of transportation with land use planning and Context Sensitive Solutions (CSS). During his thirty four years of project management experience within the New Jersey Department of Transportation (NJDOT), Gary became known for his collaboration and facilitation skills, and was one of the architects of the transformation of NJDOT to a stakeholder inclusive process. This led to his being a founding member of the NJDOT's CSS program, and has helped NJDOT become a national leader in CSS.

Local Panel:

- Bryan Dodds, MN DoT
- Joe Gladke, Hennepin County Public Works
- Dave Showalter, Aecom/EDAW
- Randy Newton, Eden Prairie Public Works

REGISTRATION DEADLINE: MARCH 11th

Workshop II: Connecting Land Use and Transportation – Overcoming Regulatory Obstacles

Monday April 19, 2010

9 am – 12 pm

Wilder Foundation, 451 Lexington Pkwy, St. Paul

Featuring Joseph Schilling, Virginia Tech Metropolitan Center

Joseph Schilling leads the Metropolitan Institute's Green Regions Initiative. He also provides communities with policy guidance in such areas as vacant property revitalization, brownfields redevelopment, smart growth, and zoning code reform. Previously, Schilling directed the community and economic development programs for the International City/County Management Association (ICMA) focusing on local governments and the intersection of land use laws and policies as they relate to smart growth and the community revitalization

Local Panel:

- Barb Sporlein, Minneapolis CPED Planning Director
- Janet Jeremiah, Eden Prairie Community Development (Invited)
- Suzanne Rhees, Cuningham Group
- Norm Bjorness, Developer
- Guy Peterson, Met Council

REGISTRATION DEADLINE: APRIL 14th

Workshop III: Equitable Development and Community Benefits

Tuesday, May 11, 2010

9 am – 12 pm

Wilder Foundation, 451 Lexington Pkwy N, St. Paul

Featuring Leslie Moody, Partnership With Working Families

Leslie Moody helped found PWF and has served as Executive Director since 2007. Previously, Leslie spent 15 years changing Colorado's organizing and political landscape, including a decade as the first woman president of the Denver Area Labor Federation, AFL-CIO. She co-founded the Front Range Economic Strategy Center (FRESC), and co-chaired the successful community benefits campaign at the Cherokee-Gates brownfield redevelopment.

Local Panel:

- Russ Adams, Alliance for Metropolitan Stability
- Gretchen Nicholls, LISC / Corridor Development Initiative
- Larry Hiscock, Harrison Neighborhood Group
- Isabel Chanslor, University Avenue Business Preparation Collaborative
- Jonathan Sage Martinson, Central Corridor Funders Collaborative

REGISTRATION DEADLINE: MAY 6th

Workshop IV: Financing of Transit-Oriented Districts – Building Public/Private Partnerships

Tuesday, June 15, 2010

9 am – 12 pm

Dorsey & Whitney, 50 S 6th Street, Minneapolis

Featuring Dena Belzer, Strategic Economics

Ms. Belzer is the founder and principal of Strategic Economics, an urban economics and planning firm in Berkeley, CA . She has over 25 years of experience assisting local and regional governments, private for-profit and non-profit developers, transit agencies, foundations and federal entities with a wide variety of land use and transit planning, real estate development, and economic development issues. She is on the management team of the Center for Transit-Oriented Development.

Local Panel:

- Becky Rom, Twin Cities Community Land Trust
- Beth Reetz, Metropolitan Council
- Patricia Nauman, Metro Cities
- Colleen Carey, The Cornerstone Group (developer)
- Patricia Fitzgerald, Hennepin County Community Works
- Wells Fargo
- MN Housing Finance Agency
- National LISC

REGISTRATION DEADLINE: JUNE 10th